Dear Search Committee Member:

We have revised our Search Procedure Manual, which will guide the process for all college searches beginning in October 2013. This document is intended to assist you in the search process and help to ensure that the College's interests are served by hiring the best candidate, and to protect the integrity of the search process for both the candidate and the Institution. Please read this manual before you begin a search.

The search manual contains an overview; a description of the procedure; appendices with relevant terminology and interview questions; and documents necessary to complete a search.

The Department of Human Resources will assist you throughout the process and be available to answer any questions you may have.

The search for and hiring of highly qualified faculty and staff are important activities for the College. Our success as an institution depends upon our ability to hire and retain excellent personnel.

Sincerely,

W. Hubert Keen, Ph.D.
President

24	Human Resources will conduct a background and reference check and notify the Vice President of clearances once received.
25	Human Resources will notify the non-selected finalists (second interview candidates), and any other candidate not previously notified, they have not been selected.

Equal Opportunity

Federal equal opportunity laws prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, gender, color, national origin, religion, disability, age, marital or veteran's status. Additionally, New York State agencies are prohibited from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation and gender identity. These laws and policies require that neither the College nor any of its representatives discriminate in any employment decisions, including recruitment, selection, promotion, compensation, training opportunities, job assignments, disciplinary actions, discharge or any other conditions of employment. Equal opportunity requires the elimination of all existing discriminatory conditions, whether purposeful or inadvertent.

Affirmative Action

Federal affirmative action law requires employers to take positive measures to recruit and employ qualified women and minorities to correct effects of past discrimination, to eliminate present discrimination and to prevent future discrimination. An affirmative action program is a set of specific and result-oriented procedures done in good faith to encourage the ideals of equal employment opportunity. Affirmative action is not a quota system and does not give hiring preferences to those who are not qualified for positions.

Federal law defines affirmative action candidates as those classified as Black or African American, Hispanic, Asian, Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islanders, American Indian or Alaskan Native. Women are also included. Separate legislation covers Vietnam era and disabled veterans and people with disabilities

Affirmative action measures are designed to cast the net as far and wide as possible to reach the greatest number of affirmative action candidates. These measures require more than simply placing an advertisement or posting a job vacancy notice. Extra efforts must be made to reach out specifically to affirmative action candidates. This guide will assist you in these efforts.

A central function of the Affirmative Action Policy is to monitor and evaluate the college's implementation of Federal and State laws, and local and SUNY-wide policies regarding equal opportunity and affirmative action.

Search Procedure Overview

Careful hiring gives the College its most valuable resource—its staff. Over the years, Farmingdale State College search committees have completed numerous successful searches, which have resulted in the hiring of highly qualified individuals. Maintaining this practice is indispensable to the continued excellence of the College. Searches must comply with all steps of the Search Procedure Manual in order for the College to hire candidates successfully. In the following pages, the search process is explained in detail.

This Search Procedure Manual applies to hiring individuals in full-time lines in the following areas:

- Faculty with Academic Rank
- Management/Confidential Staff
- Non-Teaching Professionals
- Research Foundation SUNY
- Auxiliary Services Corporation

Recruitment Plan

With the assistance of the HR Department, the Hiring Manager will develop a plan to advertise the position widely. This may include posting the position on select electronic job boards including HigherEdJobs.com, and other academic and trade publications. It may include ads placed in journals geared to minority and female professionals.

It is also important that Committee members take an active role in networking and otherwise publicizing the position using the approved vacancy announcement. Members have access to professional associations and circles, including attending meetings and posting on websites and discussion groups, that may be useful in attracting a wide variety of candidates, helping to ensure a deep pool. It is imperative that all ads, free or otherwise, get placed through the Department of Human Resources so we can track our success rate sourcing candidates from various venues.

Requisition Process

It is recommended that managers first get verbal approval from their area vice-president before proceeding with the requisition process. Once you have obtained verbal approval, a manager can move forward with the formal requisition process.

On the Farmingdale State College website, on the Human Resources webpage, in the “forms link”, select the form “Faculty & Professional Vacancy Description”, and complete the required fields. This form should be saved on their computer, with a different name and then emailed to Human Resources. Please note only electronic versions will be accepted.

Please note that this description will be used to create the job posting. Be careful when selecting your required and preferred qualifications. If these change, the job will need to be reposted, and the timeline will be pushed back. The language used in the description must be specific and clear to avoid unnecessary and unsubstantiated claims of systemic discrimination.

Human Resources will create an electronic requisition that will be circulated via Interview Exchange. Once the necessary approvals are obtained, the hiring manager will be notified. The job will then be posted and advertised.

Formation of The Search Committee

The Search Committee and each of its members shall act on behalf of, and represent, Farmingdale State College. Members must at all times respect the confidentiality of the process and contribute to its integrity. All members serve on the committee to interview qualified candidates and to recommend candidates to the appropriate Dean, Director or Vice President. It is the responsibility of each Search Committee to promote equal opportunity.

1. The Department Chairperson or Director forms a Search Committee, consulting with the appropriate Vice President and the Human Resources Department, as needed.
2. The Department Chairperson or Director informs the search committee member they have been chosen and asked to serve on the committee.
3. Members of a Search Committee must have the approval of their supervisor in order to serve on a Search Committee.
4. A Search Committee should be comprised of:
 - Three to seven individuals (five are recommended)
 - Diverse groups of individuals including members of underrepresented groups, e.g. women, minorities, disabled persons etc.
 - A student (when applicable)
 - Members from a broad cross-section of departments (when applicable)

Search Committee Orientation Meeting

1. Human Resources will schedule an orientation meeting that all Search Chairs must attend.
2. Topics addressed during the meeting include:
 - A. Affirmative action goals for the Department and the College
 - B. A review of the definition of underrepresented groups
 - C. The steps taken to identify, recruit, and select candidates including: CV/resume screening, telephone screening, interviewing, reference checking, and evaluation and selection of finalists
 - D. Specific methods to identify and recruit members of underrepresented groups
 - E. The basics of the Interview Exchange system
 - F. A review of legal and procedural issues related to the search and conducting an interview
 - G. Identification of key questions the Search Committee wants to ask candidates
 - H. Issues of confidentiality
 - I. The responsibilities of Search Committee members in the selection process
 - J. Completion of the Search Committee Timeline

Role of the Search Committee

At the first search committee meeting, the group must develop a set of questions to be used for each candidate. At the same time the candidate evaluation form (see Appendix B) must be developed. A copy of the interview questions and the candidate evaluation form must be sent to Human Resources for approval before any candidates can be interviewed.

It is expected that during the search process, committee members must:

1. Participate in all search committee meetings
2. Use the Interview Exchange online system
3. Read and evaluate cover letters and CV's/resumes
4. Screen candidates – This is documented by including comments for each qualified candidate in Interview Exchange.
5. Engage in discussions with Search Committee members and candidates
6. Evaluate the candidates who are interviewed by using the Candidate Evaluation Form
7. Seek to reach consensus
8. Present candidates for the final interview.

Résumé Review using Interview Exchange

www.interviewexchange.com

1. Interview Exchange is the online system that Farmingdale State College uses to post positions, allow applicants to apply online for a position and to track applicants through the selection process.
2. Applicants enter their information into Interview Exchange and attach an application, cover letter, CV/resume, and a list of at least three professional references with name, title, address, email address, and telephone numbers.
3. After the search committee reviews and selects the first interview candidates the Department of Human Resources screens candidates for the minimum selection criteria to ensure that the pool of candidates is qualified.
4. Consistent with the Affirmative Action Plan, the Department of Human Resources reviews the pool of candidates to ensure there is a sufficient pool of diverse applicants.
5. The Search Committee Chair and members review all CV's/resumes and pays particular attention to ensuring that applicants meet the minimum selection criteria for consideration, as evidenced in the job posting and ads. In other words, if the position requires a Masters degree and three years of related experience, any candidate who does not meet the minimum selection criteria is eliminated from further consideration. Note: If a “qualified” candidate is eliminated from consideration there must be a comment noted in Interview Exchange as to what was missing from their resume/CV, or why they were less qualified than the other candidates, i.e. did not have preferred qualifications.
6. If the department decides to make an exception and select a candidate who does not meet all of the minimum qualifications then the position must be reposted and the search restarted to allow other less qualified candidates to apply and compete for the position.
7. Human Resources is responsible for Interview Exchange and regularly conducts training on the system.
8. Search Committee members are given passwords to read applications and evaluate candidates on Interview Exchange. Each applicant is evaluated against the minimum selection criteria.
9. Human Resources is responsible for posting the position for the required timeframe, normally 30 days. Positions will be posted electronically on the Farmingdale State College website, as well as physically on the Human Resources Bulletin Board.
10. If an extension is needed the search committee must advise Human Resources as soon as possible to extend the posting period.

Applicant Tracking

The Office of Federal Contract Compliance (OFCCP) requires that every search track applicants through the selection process to ensure equal opportunity and fairness in the hiring and selection process. If Farmingdale State College is audited by OFCCP, the College will be asked to provide applicant tracking documents for all searches.

Applicants/semi-finalists are tracked via Interview Exchange through the CV/resume reviews and interviews. Reasons for selection/rejection are based on the minimum selection criteria and responses to follow up questions and/or interview questions and are recorded in Interview Exchange.

The Farmingdale State College Applicant Tracking Log can be generated through Interview Exchange. It will be populated with all pertinent information related to the search. It is the responsibility of the search committee to provide specific information into the electronic files on the minimum selection criteria, responses to interview questions, references, interview performance, student evaluations, and any other pertinent information related to the vacancy.

Screening of Applicants and First Level Interviews

Special Note: All individuals with access to the materials involved in the search process must maintain STRICT CONFIDENTIALITY with information, including applications and committee discussions, in order to protect candidates throughout the search process.

1. Prior to the first interview, the search committee will develop:
 - Candidate Evaluation Form for the initial screening of applications (Appendix B),
 - Questions for telephone references,
 - A set of interview questions.These items should be submitted to the Department of Human Resources for approval before use.
2. Once Human Resources has reviewed the pool and approved the above documents, the committee will be notified and may schedule interviews.
3. Human Resources retains the right to request the committee interview protected class applicants meeting minimum qualifications.
4. The committee may begin to screen applicants at www.interviewexchange.com based on the minimum criteria selected at the time of posting (Core Requisites).
5. Each committee member will log on using their interview exchange user name and password and do an initial screening of each applicant. A note should be entered for each candidate indicating whether or not the candidate is worthy of an interview.
6. The search committee chair should schedule a meeting for the committee to deliberate and decide who will be interviewed and if additional criteria questions will be warranted.
7. When qualified applicants are unable to come to campus for an interview, telephone interviews should be conducted. Please note the college has a Travel Reimbursement Policy which prohibits reimbursement of travel expenses for first level interviews. (Appendix E)
8. The Search Committee interviews candidates using their scripted questions and the Candidate Evaluation Form: (Appendix B). Individual Search Committee member's ratings remain confidential.
9. The Search Committee selects the finalists, and gives the Dean, Director or Vice President an unranked list of those candidates, and copies of their resumes and applications.
10. The Search Committee notifies Human Resources of their selection of finalists and sends Human Resources the original copy of the Candidate Evaluation Forms (Appendix B) for every candidate that has been interviewed along with any and all documentation pertaining to the interview.

Second Level Interviews

The second level interview can be conducted by an upper level manager including any appropriate combination of the following titles:

- Vice President
- Assistant/Associate Vice President
- Dean
- Assistant/Associate Dean
- Director
- Department Chairperson

This person(s) conducts the interview for the final candidates, makes a tentative selection and then moves to get the final approval to hire by following the recommendation to hire process.

Recommendation to Hire

Once the final candidate has been selected, and the background check and references have been completed, an appointment memo (see sample, Appendix G) should be sent to the Director of Human Resources with two lines for signature, one for the Director of Human Resources and another for the President.

The letter should contain the following items:

1. A signed statement indicating that the Affirmative Action procedures were properly followed
2. The name of the recommended candidate
3. The title of the vacancy being filled
4. The recommended start date
5. The recommended salary

This letter should be forwarded to the Department of Human Resources along with:

- Completed Candidate Evaluation Forms
- Any remaining documentation from the search.

Extending Offers

No offer is considered final until the candidate receives a signed offer letter from the President and has full background clearance from Human Resources. The salary offered must be within the range stated in the posted announcement or the approved hiring requisition.

After the verbal offer has been extended and accepted, the Hiring Manager should contact the Human Resources department, reconfirm the start date, and Human Resources will prepare the offer letter.

Closing the Search – “Until Filled”

In some instances the search is left open “until filled”. In these situations, the search chair must inform the HR department when they have an adequate pool of candidates so the search can be closed. If the search is not closed, all candidates who continue to apply must be given consideration.

APPENDIX E

TRAVEL REIMBURSEMENT POLICY

SUNY Policy (#8951) on travel reimbursements for interview candidates' states:

- Reimbursement will only be made to individuals who reside at least 50 miles from the interview site
- Reimbursement is limited to the travel allowance that would be permitted for a NYS employee
- The individual would be expected to pay the expenses directly and then be reimbursed, except in a case where that would prove to be an extreme financial hardship
- Reimbursement of travel expenses for candidates is permitted if approved by the campus president or designee.

Within the parameters of the above SUNY policy, Farmingdale State College has adopted the following local policies regarding reimbursement to interview candidates:

- Reimbursement will be allowed only for finalists for a position. It is expected that telephone interviews only will be used in the initial round of interviews for those candidates who cannot be present for the interview.
- There is a maximum cap of $1,500.00 for any reimbursement.
- Candidates will be reimbursed for reasonable costs, which could include the standard state mileage rate if they travel by car, railroad costs, or airline travel.
- For lodging, we are permitted to reimburse up to the per diem rate for Suffolk County, which currently (March 2010) is $130.00 per day.
- Meal reimbursements are also limited to the state rate for Suffolk County, currently (March 2010) $71.00 a day ($14.00 for breakfast and $51.00 for dinner).

Reimbursements are not charged to department accounts, but are handled centrally through our Human Resources department. Authorization for reimbursement of travel expenses is required prior to bringing an employee to campus. All requests should be submitted in writing using the attached form.

NOTE: All requests must conform to the Farmingdale State College Travel Reimbursement Policy
